Please Note:

Prospective job candidates are URGED to check with the respective department, dean, or payroll office for a more detailed description of qualifications. DO NOT apply for jobs via CUPE 3912, but directly with the contact person for each job posting. Some departments may accept applications online; others might not. It is our recommendation that you include a COMPLETE CV with every application, even if it is not requested.

Jobs are listed newest-to-oldest and expired job postings are periodically archived.

CUPE 3912 Job Posting for Part-Time Instructor

Course: EDUC 1000.2

Introduction to University Education

Semester: Winter 2023

Schedule: Tuesdays and Thursdays, 1:00 pm –
2:15 pm

Course Description: The objective of this course is to provide first-year students with an introduction to the special academic learning and critical thinking environment of our university . Through self-evaluation, discussion, field experiences, and traditional classroom exercises, students will develop an understanding of the learning, teaching and research culture of the university so that they will be able well to pursue their undergraduate studies with a sense of personal fulfillment and achievement. This course normally attracts a significant number of international students, which will provide both Canadian and international students with a vibrant environment for discussion and the posing of questions from many different perspectives.

Qualifications: Candidates must have a Ph.D. degree in Education and/or Philosophy with a track record of success teaching first-year students in an active learning format. The course includes discussion of critical thinking and the Socratic method in teaching, and therefore philosophical expertise related to Education is necessary. Additionally, experience teaching students whose first language is not English would be preferred.

Remuneration: Remuneration is in accordance with the Collective Agreement between Saint Mary's University and CUPE 3912

How to Apply: Applications are invited from part-time faculty colleagues who have demonstrable teaching experience in this area and who are appointed to the Faculty of Education. Applications must include a letter of intent, CV, a teaching dossier, official transcript, and three letters of reference (the transcript and letters of reference should come from the institution or professors directly). Applicants need not submit materials already on file. Send applications to Dr. Esther E. Enns, Acting Dean, Faculty of Education, Saint Mary's University, Halifax, NS B3H 3C3. Email: edu@smu.ca

Application deadline: July 7, 2022

Saint Mary's University hires on the basis of merit and is committed to the principles of employment equity. Saint Mary's University encourages applications from qualified women, visible minorities, Aboriginal people, and people with disabilities. Preference will be given to Canadian citizens and permanent residents of Canada.

Course: EDUC 4309.2 co-located with EDUC 5691.2

Innovations in North American Education

Semester: Winter 2023

Schedule: Wednesdays, 4:00 pm – 06:29 pm

Course Description: School reform is what animates and drives the history and politics of education. We will examine the rise of state schooling in Western societies, focusing on the United States and Canada. Since the advent of the public school, sweeping changes and innovations come in cycles and seek to re-engineer the K-12 system, to reform curriculum, and introduce new programs. Policies focusing on school consolidation, administrative growth, and centralization have shaped the emergence of the modern education state. Critical issues to be addressed are the nature of 'the education system', changes in teaching and learning, the socialization of children, the impact of globalization and technology, educational inequities, and the promise and challenges of 21st century learning.

Qualifications: Candidates must hold a doctoral degree in Education Studies with a research record in the study of schooling as a socio-cultural phenomenon as it relates to ongoing educational policy development. Experience teaching senior undergraduate courses relating to the history and sociology of education is required as well as experience developing and delivering courses in an online environment.

Remuneration: Remuneration is in accordance with the Collective Agreement between Saint Mary's University and CUPE 3912

How to Apply: Applications are invited from part-time faculty colleagues who have demonstrable teaching experience in this area and who are appointed to the Faculty of Education. Education and Development II

Semester: Winter 2023

Schedule: Tuesdays, 6:00 pm – 08:29 pm

Course Description: A continuation of EDUC 4476 with an emphasis on the policies and practice arising out of the major educational perspectives and approaches. Examination and comparison of educational policies in selected countries or regions of the world with a view to assessing educational outcomes, education processes and the relation between education, the public sector, the private sector and international organizations, and the effect of such policies worldwide. Selected case studies from Asia, Africa, Latin America and the Middle East/North Africa.

Qualifications: Candidates must hold a PhD in Education or in a related field of international development with a focus on education, and must have experience teaching senior undergraduate and graduate courses in the field of education and international development. A track record of successful teaching and research engagement is required.

Remuneration: Remuneration is in accordance with the Collective Agreement between Saint Mary's University and CUPE 3912

CUPE 3912 Job Posting for Part-Time Instructor

Course: IMTE 5625.1ZA

Practicum I – Classroom Observation and Field Studies

International Master of Teaching English (IMTE), Faculty of Education

Semester: Fall 2022

Schedule: Wednesdays 08:30 am – 10:45 am

Program Description:

Saint Mary's University's International Master of Teaching English program (IMTE) prepares non-native English speaking students to be teachers of English as an Additional Language (EAL/EFL/ESL) for the global context. The program includes elements relating to the Cambridge English Teacher Framework. More information about the program is available at: smu.ca/IMTE.

Course Description:

Students carry out classroom observation and learn the practice of action research. The perspectives gained are foundational for their later teaching practicum assignments.

Qualifications:

Candidates must hold at least Masters degree in a field directly related to Teaching English as a Second/Foreign/Additional Language, particularly in pedagogical aspects of teacher development. Prior experience delivering a teacher practicum course, and in language teacher development using techniques of reflective practice as well as action research are required. Evidence of teaching success at the graduate level is required as well as experience teaching students whose first language is not English using strategies of content and language integrated learning (CLIL). An ability to carry out classroom visits to observe student teachers outside of class time is required. Prior engagement with the local ESL teaching community and an ability to facilitate practicum placements in ESL/EFL/EAL classes are required. Additionally, experience developing and delivering courses in an online environment is required.

Remuneration:

Remuneration is in accordance with the Collective Agreement between Saint Mary's University and CUPE 3912

How to Apply:

Applications are invited in the first instance from part-time faculty colleagues on the Saint Mary's precedence list. Applicants who currently hold a part-time teaching appointment at Saint Mary's University should submit a cover letter and a C.V. Applicants who do not currently hold a part-time teaching appointment at Saint Mary's University should submit a complete application (including a cover letter, CV, proof of academic credentials, name and contact information of three referees, and any evidence of teaching effectiveness).

Submissions are made as a single PDF file sent directly via email to: imte@smu.ca

Application deadline: July 5, 2022

Saint Mary's University hires on the basis of merit and is committed to the principles of employment equity. Saint Mary's University encourages applications from qualified women, visible minorities, Aboriginal people, and people with disabilities. Preference will be given to Canadian citizens and permanent residents of Canada.

SMU

CUPE 3912 Job Posting for Part-Time Instructor

Course: EDUC 1000.1B

Introduction to University Education

Semester: Fall 2022

Schedule: Mondays/Wednesdays 02:30 pm – 03:45 pm

Course Description: The main objective of this course is to provide first-year students with an academic roadmap for university. Through self-evaluation, discussions, field experiences, and traditional classroom exercises, students will develop an understanding of the culture of the university so that they will be in a position to participate productively and effectively in their chosen field of study. The course normally attracts significant numbers of international students, and therefore it involves teaching strategies that will help students develop academic knowledge about English and advanced proficiency in the English language.

The course serves as a practicum site for students in the IMTE program, and therefore involves collaboration between the instructor and Masters students studying in the Faculty of Education.

Qualifications: Candidates must have a Ph.D. degree in Education and/or Philosophy with a track record of success teaching first-year students in an active learning format. The course includes discussion of critical thinking and the Socratic method in teaching, and therefore philosophical expertise related to Education is necessary. Additionally, experience teaching students whose first language is not English, as well as experience with practicum supervision of student teachers are required.

Remuneration: Remuneration is in accordance with the Collective Agreement between Saint Mary's University and CUPE 3912

How to Apply: Applications are invited from part-time faculty colleagues who have demonstrable teaching experience in this area and who are appointed to the Faculty of Education. Applications must include a letter of intent, CV, a teaching dossier, official transcript, and three letters of reference (the transcript and letters of reference should come from the institution or professors directly). Applicants need not submit materials already on file. Send applications to Dr. Esther E. Enns, Acting Dean, Faculty of Education, Saint Mary's University, Halifax, NS B3H 3C3. Email: edu@smu.ca

Application deadline: June 6, 2022

Saint Mary's University hires on the basis of merit and is committed to the principles of employment equity. Saint Mary's University encourages applications from qualified women, visible minorities, Aboriginal people, and people with disabilities. Preference will be given to Canadian citizens and permanent residents of Canada.

Course: EDUC 1101.1WW (web course/asynchronous)

Learning English as an International Language I

Semester: Fall 2022

Course Description: The course is an introduction to the historical, social and cultural contexts leading to the emergence of International (or Global) English, including a study of the effects it has had on global, national and regional identities and cultures, and the learning of English. The academic study of International English is integrated with development of English language proficiency for non-native speakers. The course is intended for speakers of English as a second or foreign language.

Qualifications: Candidates must hold a Masters degree in a field directly related to Educational Linguistics with a focus on Teaching English as a Second/Foreign/Additional Language, professional teaching experience in ESL, international experience and professional communications experience involving global audiences and/or non-native speakers of English. A track record of success in work with international transfer students (2+2) involving development and delivery of credit courses using a content and language integrated learning approach (CLIL) is required. Experience developing and delivering courses in an online environment is required. Preferred applicant will have taught web-based courses entirely online and will have experience teaching using features contained in a learning management system (e.g. D2L Brightspace); work and meet with staffing resources to setup the online course prior to the course start date; and communicate with students during the delivery of the course to guide them through proctoring arrangements.

Remuneration: Remuneration is in accordance with the Collective Agreement between Saint Mary's University and CUPE 3912

How to Apply: Applications are invited from part-time faculty colleagues who have demonstrable teaching experience in this area and who are appointed to the Faculty of Education. Applications must include a letter of intent, CV, a teaching dossier, official transcript, and three letters of reference (the transcript and letters of reference should come from the institution or professors directly). Applicants need not submit materials already on file. Send applications to Dr. Esther E. Enns, Acting Dean, Faculty of Education, Saint Mary's University, Halifax, NS B3H 3C3. ## Second Language Learning & Acquisition

Schedule: Mondays/Wednesdays 07:00 pm – 08:15 pm

Course Description: Students examine educational, social and cognitive dimensions of second language learning and acquisition or multilingualism, with a particular emphasis on adult learners. Foundational principles as they apply to international student experience are included. The study of language learning processes is integrated with development of English language proficiency for non-native speakers, and is intended for those learning English as an additional language.

Qualifications: Candidates must hold a Masters degree in a field directly related to Educational Linguistics with a focus on Teaching English as a Second/Foreign/Additional Language, professional teaching experience in ESL, international experience and professional communications experience involving global audiences and/or non-native speakers of English. A track record of success in work with international transfer students (2+2) involving development and delivery of credit courses using a content and language

Peace Education: International Perspectives and Practice

Semester: Fall 2022

Schedule: Fridays, 11:00 am – 01:29 pm

Course Description: This course will explore the central approaches to educating populations for the understanding and practice of creating the conditions for a society in which violent conflict is not an option for conflict resolution. An exploration of international case studies and international contributions to peace education—creating the objective conditions for a peaceful society through educational practice in creating the subjective conditions for peace in schools and communities—will be used to assess current thinking in perspectives and practice. This course is often taken by those wishing to prepare for the Field School in Peace Education.

Qualifications: Candidates must hold a Masters degree in a field related to Peace Education, professional experience in conflict mediation in educational institutions, and successful experience teaching senior undergraduate courses in this field. A track record of guiding students in experiential learning projects involving community engagement is required. The successful candidate will have a network of local and international partners willing to engage in elements of the course.

Remuneration: Remuneration is in accordance with the Collective Agreement between Saint Mary's University and CUPE 3912

Education and Development: Perspectives

Semester: Fall 2022

Schedule: Tuesdays, 6:00 pm – 08:29 pm.

Course Description: Introduction to concepts and analysis underlying a comparative understanding of selected educational systems around the world. The course will emphasize comparisons between mainstream educational understandings in the developed world, the agenda of international education organizations, international educational funders, and the implementation of educational systems, both public and private. Specific reference will be made to access to education, curriculum and culture, gender and education, and similar issues with an emphasis on examples from the so-called developing world in Asia, Africa, Latin America and the Middle East/North Africa.

Qualifications: Candidates must hold a PhD in Education and International Development Studies with experience teaching senior undergraduate and graduate courses in the field of education and international development. A track record of successful teaching and research engagement is required.

CUPE 3912 Job Posting for Part-Time Instructor

Course: IMTE 5710.1ZA

Course Design in Action

International Master of Teaching English (IMTE),
Faculty of Education

Semester: Spring/Summer 2022

Schedule: Mondays 5:00 – 7:30pm

Program Description:

Saint Mary's University's new International Master of Teaching English program (IMTE) prepares non-native English speaking students to be teachers of English as an Additional Language (EAL/EFL/ESL) for the global context. The program includes elements relating to the Cambridge English Teacher Framework. More information about the program is available at www.smu.ca/IMTE.

Course Description:

Students apply principles of language acquisition, linguistics, and intercultural competence to the creative practice of course design. They complete projects that includes developing lessons, learning resources, and teaching techniques. Emphasis is on selecting, creating and adapting resources that support specific needs and objectives.

Qualifications:

Candidates must hold at least a Masters degree in a field directly related to Teaching English as a Second/Foreign/Additional Language, and have expertise in practical applications of EAL/EFL/EAL theory to designing language courses at all levels. Experience delivering teacher training courses in the Cambridge English framework is required, in addition to evidence of teaching success at the graduate level. Competence using learning technologies as well as experience teaching students whose first language is not English using strategies of content and language integrated learning (CLIL) is a requirement for the position.

Remuneration:

Remuneration is in accordance with the Collective Agreement between Saint Mary's University and CUPE 3912

How to Apply:

Applications are invited in the first instance from part-time faculty colleagues on the Saint Mary's precedence list. Applicants who currently hold a part-time teaching appointment at Saint Mary's University should submit a cover letter and a C.V. Applicants who do not currently hold a part-time teaching appointment at Saint Mary's University should submit a complete application (including a cover letter, CV, proof of academic credentials, name and contact information of three referees, and any evidence of teaching effectiveness).

Submissions are made as a single PDF file sent directly via email to: imte@smu.ca

Application deadline: February 23, 2022

Saint Mary's University hires on the basis of merit and is committed to the principles of employment equity. Saint Mary's University encourages applications from qualified women, visible minorities, Aboriginal people, and people with disabilities. Preference will be given to Canadian citizens and permanent residents of Canada.

This course is intended for teachers of English as a second or foreign language (EAL/EFL/ESL). Students focus on the curriculum and methods used in teaching English to nonnative speakers both in Canada and abroad. The focus is on critical examination, analysis and evaluation of selected curricular approaches and pedagogical methods in foreign language teaching. Topics may include teaching for communication, and content and language integrated learning (CLIL).

Qualifications:

Candidates must hold a doctoral degree in a field directly related to Teaching English as a Second/Foreign/Additional Language, particularly in pedagogical aspects of teacher development, and must have taught courses in the IMTE program in earlier semesters. Prior experience in curriculum development for EAL is required, as well as collaboration with our partner university in Giessen, Germany. Evidence of teaching success at the graduate level is required as well as experience teaching students whose first language is not English using strategies of content and language integrated learning (CLIL). Additionally, experience developing and delivering courses in an online environment is required.

Remuneration:

Remuneration is in accordance with the Collective Agreement between Saint Mary's University and CUPE 3912

How to Apply:

Applications are invited in the first instance from part-time faculty colleagues on the Saint Mary's precedence list. Applicants who currently hold a part-time teaching appointment at Saint Mary's University should submit a cover letter and a C.V. Applicants who do not currently hold a part-time teaching appointment at Saint Mary's University should submit a complete application (including a cover letter, CV, proof of academic credentials, name and contact information of three referees, and any evidence of teaching effectiveness).

Submissions are made as a single PDF file sent directly via email to: imte@smu.ca

Application deadline: November 17, 2021

Saint Mary's University hires on the basis of merit and is committed to the principles of employment equity. Saint Mary's University encourages applications from qualified women, visible minorities, Aboriginal people, and people with disabilities. Preference will be given to Canadian citizens and permanent residents of Canada.

POSTING OF AVAILABLE TEACHING ASSIGNMENTS
(Fall 2021)

Posting Date: June 1, 2021

Education 1000.1 – Introduction to University

Education

- Section A TR 11:30am-12:45pm
- Section B MW 2:30pm-3:45pm

The main objective of this course is to provide first-year students with an academic roadmap for university. Through self-evaluation, discussions, field experiences, and traditional classroom exercises, students will develop an understanding of the culture of the university so that they will be in a position to participate productively and effectively in their chosen field of study. The course normally attracts significant numbers of international students, and therefore it involves teaching strategies that will help students develop academic knowledge about English and advanced proficiency in the English language.

The course serves as a practicum site for students in the IMTE program, and therefore involves collaboration between the instructor and Masters students studying in the Faculty of Education.

Candidates should hold a PhD degree in Education and/or Philosophy of Education, or a directly related field, with a track record of success teaching first-year students in an active learning format. Course instruction involves critical thinking pedagogy as well as the Socratic method and reflective practice, and therefore philosophical expertise related to Education is necessary. Additionally, experience teaching students whose first language is not English, as well as experience with practicum supervision of student teachers are required. Experience developing and delivering courses in an online environment is required.

Applications are invited from part-time faculty colleagues who have demonstrable teaching experience in this area and who are appointed to the Faculty of Education. Applications must include a letter of intent, CV, a teaching dossier, official transcript, and three letters of reference (the transcript and letters of reference should come from the institution or professors directly). Applicants need not submit materials already on file. Send applications to Dr. Esther E. Enns, Acting Dean, Faculty of Education, Saint Mary's University, Halifax, NS B3H 3C3.

The closing date is June 15, 2021.

EDUC 1101.1 – Learning English as an International Language I

TR 7:00-8:15pm

This course is an introduction to the historical, social and cultural contexts leading to the emergence of International (or Global) English, including a study of the effects it has had on global, national and regional identities and cultures, and the learning of English. The academic study of International English is integrated with development of English language proficiency for non-native speakers. The course is intended for speakers of English as a second or foreign language.

Candidates must hold a Masters degree in a field directly related to Educational Linguistics with a focus on Teaching English as a Second/Foreign/Additional Language, professional teaching experience in ESL, international experience and professional communications experience involving global audiences and/or non-native speakers of English. A track record of success in work with international transfer students (2+2) involving development and delivery of credit courses using a content and language integrated learning approach (CLIL) is required. Experience developing and delivering courses in an online environment is required.

Applications are invited from part-time faculty colleagues who have demonstrable teaching experience in this area and who are appointed to the Faculty of Education. Applications must include a letter of intent, CV, a teaching dossier, official transcript, and three letters of reference (the transcript and letters of reference should come from the institution or professors directly). ## CUPE 3912 Job Posting for Part-Time Instructor

Course: EDUC 5523.1WA

Teaching Methods for Mathematics

Certificate in Mathematical Sciences for Education
(CMSE)

Semester: Summer 2021

Schedule: REMOTE DELIVERY

July 5 -26, 2021

MTWR 9:00am to 12:00pm

Program Description:

The Certificate in the Mathematical Sciences for Education (CMSE) is designed for high school and junior high school teachers who wish to improve their mathematical background. It is approved for teaching licence upgrading in Nova Scotia by the Minister's Advisory Committee on Teacher Certification. The CMSE program is for students who hold a Bachelor of Education degree or equivalent.

Course Description:

EDUC 5523 – Teaching Methods for Mathematics is intended for teachers from junior and senior high schools in Nova Scotia. Students will learn to integrate mathematical skills acquired in other CMSE courses into their teaching practice, using these skills to create a more effective learning climate in the math classroom, create and use problem-solving strategies and cooperative learning techniques, make appropriate use of technology, and develop a deeper understanding of the role of secondary school mathematics in lifelong learning. Students will examine a variety of teaching strategies and instructional resources for designing, implementing, and enriching mathematical instruction. They will engage in reflection on their conceptions of math and their teaching approaches, examine and present recent research, share examples of exemplary practice, study students' learning needs and curriculum design and develop a personal and professional growth plan.

Qualifications:

Candidates must hold at least a Masters degree in a field directly related to Mathematics; a PhD is preferred. Their educational and/or professional background must also include experience in pedagogical aspects of teaching mathematics; prior experience in teaching in-service education courses is preferred. This course will be delivered remotely using SMU-supported technologies for teaching online. Demonstrated effectiveness in teaching in digital environments is required.

Remuneration:

Remuneration is specified in the Collective Agreement between Saint Mary's University and CUPE 3912.

How to Apply:

Applications are invited in the first instance from part-time faculty colleagues on the Saint Mary's precedence list. Applicants who currently hold a part-time teaching appointment at Saint Mary's University should submit a cover letter and a CV. Applicants who do not currently hold a part-time teaching appointment at Saint Mary's University should submit a complete application (including a cover letter, CV, proof of academic credentials, name and contact information of three referees, and any evidence of teaching effectiveness). Submissions are made as a single PDF file sent directly via email to: edu@smu.ca

Application deadline: April 7, 2021

Saint Mary's University hires on the basis of merit and is committed to the principles of employment equity. Saint Mary's University encourages applications from qualified women, visible minorities, Aboriginal people, and people with disabilities. Preference will be given to Canadian citizens and permanent residents of Canada.

CUPE 3912 Job Posting for Part-Time Instructor

Course: IMTE 5730.1ZA

Teaching and Assessment in EAL/EFL/ESL

International Master of Teaching English (IMTE),
Faculty of Education

Semester: Spring/Summer 2021

Schedule: Wednesdays 4:00 – 6:30pm

Program Description:

Saint Mary's University's new International Master of Teaching English program (IMTE) prepares non-native English speaking students to be teachers of English as an Additional Language (EAL/EFL/ESL) for the global context. The program includes elements relating to the Cambridge English Teacher Framework. More information about the program is available at www.smu.ca/IMTE.

Course Description:

Students are provided with an overview of the principles of language assessment to identify the different types and purposes of assessment, including IELTS and TOEFL. Competency-based frameworks are used to evaluate language learners of all ages while introducing models for assessing learners' language and language skills in the classroom.

Qualifications:

Candidates must hold at least a Masters degree in a field directly related to Teaching English as a Second/Foreign/Additional Language, and have expertise in practical applications of EAL/EFL/EAL theory to designing language courses at all levels. Experience with Cambridge English language programming is required, in addition to evidence of teaching success at the graduate level.

Competence using learning technologies as well as experience teaching students whose first language is not English using strategies of content and language integrated learning (CLIL) is a requirement for the position. Additionally, experience developing and delivering courses in an online environment is required.

Remuneration:

Remuneration is in accordance with the Collective Agreement between Saint Mary's University and CUPE 3912

How to Apply:

Applications are invited in the first instance from part-time faculty colleagues on the Saint Mary's precedence list. Applicants who currently hold a part-time teaching appointment at Saint Mary's University should submit a cover letter and a C.V. Applicants who do not currently hold a part-time teaching appointment at Saint Mary's University should submit a complete application (including a cover letter, CV, proof of academic credentials, name and contact information of three referees, and any evidence of teaching effectiveness).

Submissions are made as a single PDF file sent directly via email to: imte@smu.ca

Application deadline: March 12, 2021

Saint Mary's University hires on the basis of merit and is committed to the principles of employment equity. Saint Mary's University encourages applications from qualified women, visible minorities, Aboriginal people, and people with disabilities. Preference will be given to Canadian citizens and permanent residents of Canada.

SAINT MARY'S UNIVERSITY
FACULTY OF EDUCATION*POSTING OF AVAILABLE TEACHING ASSIGNMENTS –
Spring 2021

Posting Date: February 26, 2021

Education 1000.1 – Introduction to University Education (Remote)

- TR 7:00pm – 8:15pm

The main objective of this course is to provide first-year students with an academic roadmap for university. Through self-evaluation, discussions, field experiences, and traditional classroom exercises, students will develop an understanding of the culture of the university so that they will be in a position to participate productively and effectively in their chosen field of study. The course normally attracts significant numbers of international students, and therefore it involves teaching strategies that will help students develop academic knowledge about English and advanced proficiency in the English language.

The course serves as a practicum site for students in the IMTE program, and therefore involves collaboration between the instructor and Masters students studying in the Faculty of Education. The position will include duties related to the planned future conversion of the course to a fully online format.

Candidates should hold a PhD degree in Education and/or Philosophy with a track record of success teaching first-year students in an active learning format. Course instruction involves critical thinking pedagogy as well as the Socratic method and reflective practice, and therefore philosophical expertise related to Education is necessary. Additionally, experience teaching students whose first language is not English, as well as experience with practicum supervision of student teachers are required. Experience developing and delivering courses in an online environment is required.

Applications are invited from part-time faculty colleagues who have demonstrable teaching experience in this area and who are appointed to the Faculty of Education. Applications must include a letter of intent, CV, a teaching dossier, official transcript, and three letters of reference (the transcript and letters of reference should come from the institution or professors directly). Applicants need not submit materials already on file. Send applications to Dr. Esther E. Enns, Acting Dean, Faculty of Education, Saint Mary's University, Halifax, NS B3H 3C3.

Spring 2021

EDUC 1101.1 – Learning English as an International Language I (Remote and in-person delivery)

- TR 7:00pm – 8:15pm

The course is an introduction to the historical, social and cultural contexts leading to the emergence of International (or Global) English, including a study of the effects it has had on global, national and regional identities and cultures, and the learning of English. The academic study of International English is integrated with development of English language proficiency for non-native speakers. The course is intended for speakers of English as a second or foreign language.

The course serves as a practicum site for students in the IMTE program, and therefore involves collaboration between the instructor and Masters students studying in the Faculty of Education. The position will include duties related to the planned future conversion of the course to a fully online format.

Candidates must hold a Masters degree in a field directly related to Educational Linguistics with a focus on Teaching English as a Second/Foreign/Additional Language, professional teaching experience in ESL, international experience and professional communications experience involving global audiences and/or non-native speakers of English. A track record of success in work with international transfer students (2+2) involving development and delivery of credit courses using a content and language integrated learning approach (CLIL) is required. Experience developing and delivering courses in an online environment is required.

Applications are invited from part-time faculty colleagues who have demonstrable teaching experience in this area and who are appointed to the Faculty of Education. Applications must include a letter of intent, CV, a teaching dossier, official transcript, and three letters of reference (the transcript and letters of reference should come from the institution or professors directly).
